

*For immediate release:
May 2, 2012*

GMi actively participated in the Construction Industry Safety Stand Down on May 2, 2012, using this time to reinforce safety with its employees at job sites. The stand down took place from 10:00 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. CST and allowed job site supervisors to review with workers various safety topics pertinent to their specific jobs, including items such as fall protect, use of personal protective equipment, and safe use of tools.

“Safety is an attitude all employees must excel at,” stated GMi Safety Director, Barry Corey. “Safety takes team work and must be a constant focus for everyone. As a result, we are more productive and go home enjoying our work!”

Safety trained GMi scaffold crew go to work on scaffold erection for 8 story multi-family job.

At GMi, safety is a constant process of learning and re-learning to stay up-to-date on the latest safe practices in construction.

For more information about GMi or this news release, please contact:

Michael Ward, Director of Business Development

(817) 481-0029 x226

michaelward@gmitexas.com